From the Director, Educational Leadership

To the Gulgong High School Community

The NSW Education Department is one of the largest systems of its type in the world, with more than 125,000 employees spread among more than 2,200 schools and numerous offices around the state.

As such, staff movements are continuous; therefore, I need to inform you that Ms Anna Reynolds, Principal of Gulgong High School, is moving to another school-based position with the department

Ms Reynolds last day at the school will be Friday, 02 December 2022.

I would like to thank Ms Reynolds for her leadership of the school and her contribution to the education and personal development of the staff and students of Gulgong High since starting as principal in 2020.

Recruitment of a permanent replacement for Ms Reynolds will start shortly; so, until that process is complete and to ensure local leadership continuity, Mr Nathan Wong will act as principal.

I look forward to updating the community further regarding the outcome of this process, in due course.
